KICKERS OF 1808 AND 1917

The Springfield Republican recalls that in the Jeffersonian embargo days of 110 years ago a member of Congress bitterly complained: "Darkness and mystery overshadow this House and the whole country. We know nothing. We are permitted to know nothing. We sit here as automata; we legislate without knowing, nay, sir, without wishing to know why or wherefore." As Congress has never been without its confirmed kickers, it has of course listened to objections to the present embargo, but outside of Germany, its neutral feeders, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland, and pro-German circles in the United States, there is little complaint to speak of and nothing even remotely suggestive of the outcry heard against the Jeffersonian embargo of 110 years ago.

The bitter complaint against the embargo of 1908 in New England, whose commerce was much injured, brought about a revival of the plan of the States of that section, first ventilated in 1803-4, to cut loose from the Union and form a separate Northern confederacy. The defeated Federalist party, or its New England branch, first proposed secession as an escape from the hated and triumphant Jeffersonian Democracy, the same sentiment flaring up again under the unpopular embargo of 1808 and yet again under the unpopular war of 1812. In those days a disgruntled Congressman thought nothing of threatening the secession of his section. Josiah Quincy of Massachusetts, for example, opposing the admission of Louisiana as a State in 1811, declared on the floor of the House in Washington that if the bill passed it would be the duty of some of the States as it was the right of all, to prepare for separation—amicably if you can, violently if they must. Now that such threats are long out of fashion, dissatisfied Congressmen content themselves with stubborn obstruction.

CLIMBED STAIRS ON HER HANDS

Too Ill to Walk Upright. Operation Advised. Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does manual labor. Read her story: "For two years I was so sick and weak that I could not get on my feet. When going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shoveled dirt, did building and cement work, and withal raised broods of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. M. O. JOHNSON, Route 1, Box 190, Richmond, Ind.

CLARK GRIFFITH WILL ALSO SEND BASEBALL NEWS TO FRANCE

Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington American League club, who has charge of the Bat and Ball fund from which the revenue is derived to send baseball paraphernalia to the American boys in the trenches, has also now made arrangements whereby the soldiers in France will have all the baseball news that they wish, he having just placed an order for 500 copies of The Sporting News, the official baseball paper, to be sent to General John J. Pershing, United States Army, Somewhere in France.

When it was originally decided to forward baseball paraphernalia to the soldiers in France it was not planned to send baseball news, but on account of the persistent demand among some of the soldiers who do not wish to play, but who want copies of The Sporting News, they will receive them in the future. In addition to these papers which Mr. Griffith has ordered, J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of The Sporting News, has been sending five hundred copies of the paper each week to Harry Kingman, of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. stationed in Paris, France.

HOOVER FORMALLY IS APPOINTED AS FOOD CONTROLLER

Washington, August 10.—The American government assumed control of the country's food supply with the signing by President Wilson of the administration survey and regulatory bills.

Formal announcement of Herbert Hoover's appointment as food administrator was made at the White House soon after the measures were approved and tonight Mr. Hoover set forth the aims of the food administration in a statement declaring its purpose would be to stabilize and not to disrupt conditions.

Every effort will be made to correct price abuses made possible by abnormal times, Mr. Hoover said, but drastic measures will not be attempted until it is seen the purposes of the administration can not be accomplished through constructive co-operation with food producing and distributing industries.

Large women will be pleased to hear that the new svelte system of designing has planned even undergarments with special regard to giving them slender lines combined with the newest styles. The foundation of food dressing is in the undergarments and the corset. Hence particular attention should be given to these articles of dress.
